Brazil Army Reported in Move South

Conflicting Reports Veil Intent and Actions of Goulart

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—Brazil was reported today to have sent its 2nd Army against southern supporters of Vice President Joao Goulart, but a statement by the army's commander cast doubt on whether such action was under way. There were no reports of unusual troop movements.

The conflicting reports emerged as Goulart continued his journey toward Brazil to claim the presidency. He was flying to Montevideo, Uruguay, from where he was expected to continue on to Porto Alegre, stronghold of his support in southernmost Rio Grande do Sul State.

Journal of Brazil, a newspaper published here, said the 2nd Army opened "military operations" against Rio Grande do Sul early this morning where the 3rd Army has thrown its support to Goulart.

Brazil has four army commands. The 2nd Army is based in Sao Paulo, north of Parana State which also comes under 3rd Army jurisdiction.

Journal of Brazil said navy and air force units were participating in a "joint operation" with the 2nd Army against the pro-Goulart forces.

Dispatches from Sao Paulo said there were no unusual troop movements there this morning.

Goulart was flying south in an American jetliner to Buenos Aires. From there, he was expected to head directly for Porto Alegre, his stronghold in southern Brazil.

About 300 Cuban refugees in Miami jeered Goulart when his plane stopped over there early today, denouncing him as a "Communist."

In Brasilia, however, Congress sharply rejected a manifesto from Brazil's military leaders denouncing Goulart's alleged leftist leanings and declaring that his return could plunge the nation into "chaos and civil war."

"The federal constitution requires the inauguration of Joao Goulart as president of the republic with the powers given him by the people," said a resolution adopted by voice vote at an all-night session of Congress.

"If a parliamentary form of government is adopted, the president's power would be adapted to the conditions peculiar to that system."

The resolution was an amendment to a measure proposing the appointment of a committee to prepare a constitutional amendment giving Brazil a European-style parliamentary government in which the president would be a figurehead and premier would have the real power.

While it appeared likely that the committee would be appointed, it was by no means sure that Congress would approve a parliamentary government.

Fall from Roof Injures Workman

Suffering a painful back injury, Gregorio T. Hernandez, 36, of Banning is reported in good condition after a fall from the roof of the new Alpha Beta Market yesterday afternoon.

Hernandez was rushed to Desert Hospital where he was confined until X-rays could be taken.

At the time of the accident, Hernandez was framing the roof.

Seeks Investigation of 'Military Muzzle Plot'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., formally asked the Senate Armed Services Committee today to vote a full-scale investigation of what he calls a conspiracy to muzzle military anti-Communist drives.

Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., scheduled a closed door committee meeting today. Thurmond's proposal for a $75,000 committee study was slated for committee consideration.

Thurmond himself canceled plans to address a community seminar

News In Brief

JACKASS FLATS, Nev. (UPI)—"No Comment" was the terse reaction Wednesday of Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) spokesmen to the news Russia will resume nuclear testing.

But an AEC spokesman here at the only testing site in the United States said recently the first American shot could be fired within three weeks of a decision to go ahead with tests.

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Most Southern California housewives will pay half a penny more a quart and most Northern California homemakers will pay a penny a quart more for milk starting Friday.

The state Department of Agriculture said Wednesday that the increases reflect the normal seasonal rise in milk production costs.

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Sen. John F. McCarthy of Marin County today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor next year.

McCarthy, 37, a member of the Senate for the past 10 years, was the first to announce publicly he would seek the lieutenant governorship currently held by Democrat Glenn M. Anderson.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Leaders of both houses were hopeful that a compromise foreign aid authorization bill would receive final congressional approval today.

The bill approved Wednesday by House-Senate conferees would provide $4,253,300,000 for the current fiscal year's aid program. Its novel feature is a five-year development loan program.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The 29th Discoverer satellite whirled around the earth today in a polar orbit, the 19th of its family to go into orbit successfully.

The launching took place Wednesday at 1 p.m. PDT and the Air Force announced two hours later that the satellite had entered orbit. Alaska and Hawaii tracking stations confirmed the orbit.

The satellite is circling the globe once every 91.4 minutes, coming within 140 miles at its closest point and 345 miles at its most distant point from earth.

Officers said the recovery of a 300-pound gold-plated capsule, filled with instruments, riding aboard the satellite, could be freed from one to four days, depending upon the weather in the recovery area off Hawaii. The contents of the capsule were not revealed.

Seven capsules have been recovered from Discoverers.

The successful orbit broke a losing string for the Air Force. The last Discoverer failed to orbit and the one before that blew up on launching.

Big Transportation Scheme In Springs Goes to Council

C. Harrison Russell, owner and operator of Desert Stage Lines, has written a letter to the City Council requesting an audience with the governing body to discuss a city-operated transportation system for Palm Springs.

Russell suggested in the letter that the council float a bond issue to finance it and hire him as manager.

He said that the present local transportation system "has not given adequate and satisfactory service in the past," and added that it was an opportune time "to make some definite changes."

The council received copies of the letter from City Manager Dan Wagner this week and is expected to act on the request at a future meeting.

Under the proposal, Russell suggests that a complete transportation system be set up covering the entire community, that a new taxi service, air conditioned and radio controlled, be augmented, that a new airport limousine service be established direct from the airport to hotels and businesses, and that charter and sightseeing buses be operated.

Thurmond's office also has reported a heavy flood of favorable telegrams and thousands of letters in the last couple of days. Controversy over military anti-Communist efforts began after Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was relieved as commander of the 24th Infantry Division in Germany. Walker's "pro-blue" troop indoctrination had come under fire, and the general was reported to have questioned the integrity of several U.S. officials and newsmen.

RUSSIANS SET STAGE IN BIG ARMAMENTS RACE

White House Condemns Red Decision

'Atomic Blackmail' Description Given In 2nd Statement

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House today condemned Russia's decision to resume nuclear bomb tests as atomic blackmail and declared the U.S. arsenal is "wholly adequate" to defend the Free World.

The statement, the second from the White House since Wednesday night's Soviet announcement, was issued after President Kennedy met with his National Security Council and congressional leaders of both parties.

"It was recognized that the Soviet announcement was primarily a form of atomic blackmail, designed to substitute terror for reason in the present international scene," the statement said.

"What the Soviet Union is obviously testing is not only nuclear devices but the will and determination of the Free World to resist such tactics and to defend freedom."

No Decision on Tests

No decision whether Kennedy will order U.S. tests to resume was conveyed to the bipartisan group of legislative leaders at this morning's conference. But it was stated the U.S. will stay "prepared" to test if necessary.

Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., chairman of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee, said that the United States has known for many years how to make a 50 or 100 megaton nuclear bomb such as the Russian announcement boasted.

But he said there is "little or no military justification for such a large weapon." He said "it is a scientific fact that 20 megaton weapons will cause more damage than one 100 megaton weapon."

Holifield said he expected Kennedy to make an "important announcement on this matter soon."

The United States, it was learned, will let the full impact of Russia's announcement to sink in around the world before it makes public any decision on U.S. nuclear tests.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—A scheduled test of the experimental X15 rocket plane was canceled Wednesday because of several minor problems and reset for Friday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said instrumentation problems caused the most difficulty. The flight was scrubbed when the auxiliary power unit for 80 per cent of the plane's instruments went out.

The satellite is circling the globe once every 91.4 minutes, coming within 140 miles at its closest point and 345 miles at its most distant point from earth.

Tension Eases in Crisis of Berlin

BERLIN (UPI)—A lull in the crisis of Berlin, which has been going on for several weeks, has given the city a chance to come out of the storm cellar into the sunshine.

Seasoned German observers called the relaxation "die ruhige Mitte eines Wirbelsturms" — the eye of the hurricane. Everybody knows the black clouds will gather again, but Berliners believe the sky will be clear for a while.

People here have lived so long on the brink of destruction that they have developed a sensitive nose for danger. They can smell a crisis all the way to Moscow. Now they think they can look forward to about three weeks of quiet.

They base their belief on small things. They notice that the young American G.I. who sits atop a General Patton tank on the U.S.-Soviet sector border has taken off his helmet, stuck some flowers into a soft drink bottle and is enjoying the sunshine. He has grown accustomed to the sight of his potential enemies — German Communist police — patrolling a few yards away with tommy guns slung on their shoulders.

The Berliners notice there are fewer Communist water cannon on the sector borders today than there were Wednesday. To them these small things add up to a sense of relief. They think the awesome peril that has hung over Berlin for a fortnight — that a hot-headed exchange of shots by a Western soldier and a Communist

UAW Putting Pressure on General Motors

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers union started to put the pressure on General Motors today in hopes of reaching an agreement before a government-prompted strike deadline expires Sept. 6.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he would discuss with GM today, "just where we are in negotiations, economic problems and review other contract matters."

Wednesday Reuther took a hot and cold tack in discussing the UAW-GM talks.

He made it clear that the union was far from satisfied with General Motors offers to date but insisted the union "is not looking for a strike."

He said the UAW would not insist that GM or Ford or Chrysler follow exactly the profit-sharing line laid down in the union's agreement with American Motors.

Reuther then sharply turned a corner and insisted that GM and the others would have to "match" the AMC agreement in some way before any settlement is possible.

GM Vice President Louis Seaton, meanwhile, was telling newsmen that the Big Three offer would put an extra $1,000 in the pay envelopes of GM workers during the three year period proposed.

Reuther and American Motors President George Romney held a joint news conference Wednesday to announce the final form of the AMC agreement.

Charles Coburn Taken by Death

NEW YORK (UPI)—Charles Coburn, 84, the monocled actor who tramped the boards for 68 years in one of the longest careers in show business, died Wednesday of heart failure after a minor throat operation.

Coburn had undergone the operation at Lenox Hill Hospital to correct a lingering illness that last week forced him to spend 6½ hours daily for intravenous feedings while on a road tour of "You Can't Take It With You." His last performance was in Indianapolis.

Walter Callender, youth center director, and Howard Haddock, director for the city, will be in charge of the trip. Two supervisors will accompany each bus.

Everyone must register at the youth center by tomorrow, Friday, before 5 p.m.

Anti-Communism School Packs 16,000 in Arena

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Actor Ronald Reagan warned Wednesday night that youth is one of Communism's prime targets today, just as movie people were prime targets 10 years ago.

A crowd of 16,000 packed the Memorial Sports Arena to hear Reagan, John Wayne, Roy Rogers, and other celebrities speak at the Southern California School of Anti-Communism.

About 4,000 or 5,000 people heard the speeches outside through loudspeakers.

"You're a target," Reagan said to the young people in the audience. "Communists will appeal to your rebellious nature...they will make you feel your patriotism is hollow. Then they will fill up the vacuum with their philosophy."

Philbrick, who wrote the book "I Led 3 Lives," said a new set of standards will have to be drafted by American youth if they are to survive the cold war with Soviet Russia.

Capital Prepared

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's capital, apparently, is the best American city in which to become ill.

The District of Columbia has the highest number of hospital beds per 1,000 population—17.9, followed by 14.0 in New York and 13.2 in Massachusetts. So reports "Patterns of Disease," a publication for physicians.

Wrong Guess May Have Hurt Adenauer Hope

By FRED C. WEIGEL
Sun Staff Writer

Just 19 years ago, Rupert F. "Phat" Graettinger came to Palm Springs to become editor of the resort city's fast growing newspaper — The Desert Sun. He was 54 years old and a newspaperman who had earned the respect and admiration of his co-workers and the public for his honest and factual reporting.

Today, at 73, he is as sharp witted as ever, and has earned new titles — dean of desert area newsmen and editor emeritus of The Desert Sun.

Still active as a newspaperman, he writes a daily column in the Sun — This Side of the Sun, by Phat, vacations at his Long Beach home for three months in the summer, and during the winter season serves as editorial consultant of Palm Springs' only daily newspaper.

Graettinger has spent almost 60 years in the newspaper business, starting as a young boy on Southern California newspapers. He was working on the Los Angeles Herald the night the Los Angeles Times was bombed, having started some years earlier as a reporter on the Ontario Report.

It was almost 35 years ago that Graettinger returned to the Herald as its editor and then managing editor, a job he was to keep for 14 years.

On Aug. 31, 1942, he accepted an offer from Carl Barkow to come to Palm Springs as editor of The Desert Sun. No less than three Palm Springs newspapers were born and died while Graettinger edited the Desert Sun.

Within two weeks after starting his employment at the Sun, Graettinger started his column — running it from the top left hand column on page one, he editorialized the needs of the resort community. Columnists throughout the state and across the country began quoting from it, and continue to do so today.

His first column appeared on Sept. 11, 1942 and talked about his coming to Palm Springs, and commented: "My most ardent critic (his wife Alice) said to me after I told her I was going to write a column, 'What makes you think you can write a column,' but I decided to find out."

There was a war on, and Palm Springs boys were fighting on the far flung battlefields of the world.

His columns consistently carried suggestions of things for military men to do when visiting here.

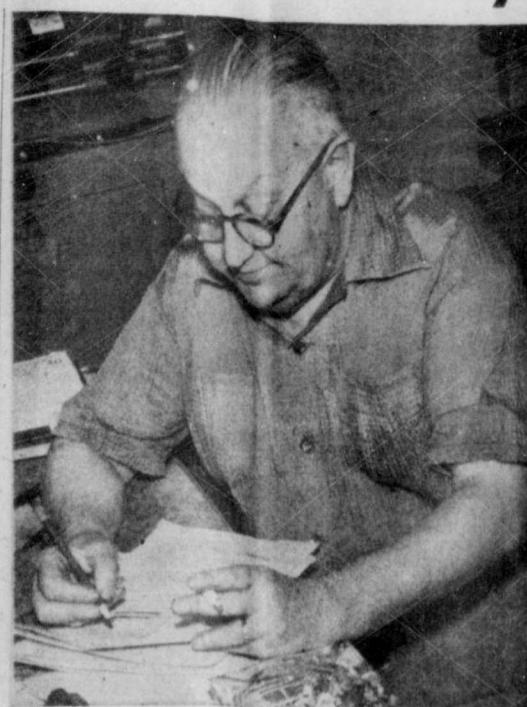

He filled his column (like he does today) with anecdotes on local residents, most of the time using names. In one instance during these early columns he wrote of a young woman who appeared at the local police station to fill out a questionnaire concerning a traffic citation. "The officer was aghast when he read the answers to the single word questions," wrote Phat. "After 'Make' was written 'female' — after 'Type' was 'blonde' — and after 'Year' was '21'."

It was five years before Graettinger made a major change in his column format. On September 26, 1947 he printed almost a full column of two and four line verse and the following week (Sept. 30) started his column with a verse, which he has continued ever since.

Graettinger, who is not superstitious, set an early precedent, which he has continued over the years. He would not write a column on Friday the 13th. But on every Friday the 13th for the past 18 years, This Side of the Sun has run in The Desert Sun. However the by-line on it says "By Mrs. G."

Graettinger's jobs on newspapers have included that of newspaperboy, printers devil, reporter, sports and women's page editor, city editor, and managing editor.

He is an avid supporter of good reporting. A favorite story told hang around newspaper offices taking reporting assignments whenever the editor was short handed, working in the back shop or selling papers.

One of his favorite subjects is mathematics, and he can figure the percentage of taxes to an assessed valuation almost as fast as he can figure the odds on a race horse.

During his years in Palm Springs he has been honored many times, with scrolls, plaques, and testimonials, but most revered by him was a plaque placed on a downtown bench which reads: "Dedicated to R. F. 'Phat' Graettinger, who worked so hard to get them placed here."

Possibly one of his happiest moments was a testimonial dinner held in his honor almost 10 years ago at which time he celebrated his 50th anniversary in the newspaper business.

There is no 30-dash which will fit on the end of a story about Phat Graettinger, nor could you ever find that place to call it 30 when writing about a man who dedicated his life to seeing that the freedom of the press is held at the highest professional plane.

As it is that he starts his daily columns, we shall close this story:

It would be no news
should this paper see,
Phat still papering
the Friendly S.P.,
And pushing the ponies,
as well as his pen,
When over the century
mark he's been.

Unemployment Pay OK While Under Training

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Any worker displaced from his job is potentially eligible to receive unemployment benefits while retraining, the state Department of Employment said today.

Director Irving H. Perluss said legislation which becomes effective Sept. 15 provides that unemployed workers who are taking a retraining course do not have to be available for or seek work until the course is over.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Foreign exchange students at Pennsylvania State University's College of Agriculture are encouraged to live for a week with a farm family.

Families who have been their hosts say they've learned more than the guests about the customs of a foreign country.

Vigorous Antitrust Enforcement To Provide Big Savings—Mosc

GLACIER PARK, Mont. (UPI) — Vigorous enforcement of state antitrust laws will provide big savings to taxpayers by preventing noncompetitive bidding on public contracts, California Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk said Wednesday.

Speaking at the closing business session of the annual conference of western attorneys general, Mosk told of California's attack on price-fixing, allocation of markets, division of territories and other forms of collusive bidding on state construction projects and purchases.

"Enforcement of state antitrust laws is the most effective way for its enforcement."

Wednesday, Nov. 29, probably is the day on which Jose Angel Gonzales, 27, will be scheduled for execution in the gas chamber at San Quentin Prison for the murder of a 10-year-old Palm Springs girl, killing Juanita Zapeda at her Desert Outpost home, just east of Palm Springs, last summer.

Arrest of Gonzales culminated an intensive manhunt in which more than 100 possible suspects were questioned by sheriff's deputies. It was a search that started after the girl's partially decomposed body was found in a shallow grave in the front yard of her parents' home.

Pathologists said the child had been buried alive after being knocked unconscious. A Palm Springs detective was credited with breaking the case.

Gonzales' attorney, public defender George Hooten, reports he may appeal the case to the U.S. Supreme Court if he fails in a clemency hearing required by law before Gov. Edmund Brown.

Hooten said the law is not specific, but Gov. Brown is required to hold the hearing "within two or three days" of the scheduled execution.

It's Wardrobe Perk-up Time For Students

If you're a mother of school aged children, now is the ideal time to start perk up their back-to-school wardrobes. Here are some tips from Mrs. Anne Sterling, Director of Consumer Education for the American Institute of Laundering, on how to outfit your children in suitable, durable, and easily maintained garments.

The first thing to do in planning what to buy is to take inventory to what you already have. As you decide what clothing you need to buy, keep in mind some of the practical aspects of a planned wardrobe.

You will want your children dressed in style and, at the same time, to be protected and comfortable. You will also want carefully constructed garments that are easy to maintain. Garments that mix and match with other items in the inventory will mean that a smaller wardrobe is necessary.

Take your children along when you are ready to buy. By letting them try on articles before purchasing, you'll be able to see that they fit properly. Proper fit is essential to comfort and durability. If your children help make the selections, their tastes in clothing may improve. They might even be encouraged to take better care of clothing.

Choose practical colors — colors that do not show soil easily and do not require special handling. Solid dark colors will show lint. Bright fall patterns are stylish, fresh-looking, and practical. Make sure that colors will not fade.

Be certain that trimmings and closures are colorfast, durable, and can be laundered without being removed. Ruffles and frills are pretty, but they can be troublesome and clumsy for school year. Linings should be preshrunk.

Select fabrics that are easy to maintain and that will last through repeated wearings. Study hang tags. Be careful with garments that carry warnings such as "Do Not Bleach," and "Use Cool Iron" or "Hang in Shade." Take special note of laundering instructions. Complicated instructions and implied warnings usually indicate that special handling will be necessary for maintenance. The best insurance that a garment will withstand repeated washings is the display of the American Institute of Laundering's Certified Washable Seal. Garments that are awarded the Seal must meet rigid standards, proving that they will retain their appearance, will not shrink out of size, and are colorfast to both washing and sunlight.

Gentlemen Now Prefer Brunettes

Who says blondes are more glamorous than brunettes? Or brunettes? Those of us who duty it is to delve into these matters and report them back to American women find that the majority just don't think so. At last count, Helena Rubenstein reports, at least 20 million women in this country were coloring their hair and finding the results delightful—especially the brunettes and brunettes.

Undoubtedly, many of these ladies tried blonde hair and were disillusioned with the results. Perhaps they found that any resemblance to highly publicized, voluptuous Hollywood stars ended with an unbecoming, near-white thatched mane. Or, perhaps, our national level of good taste has increased. Helena Rubenstein, who certainly knows a lady when she sees one, believes today's trend to softer brunettes and brunettes shades is caused by something much more basic. She says men really prefer brunettes. "Many men can be temporarily impressed by a flashy blonde," says Madame Rubenstein, "but when it comes to selecting the little woman who will keep the home and raise the children, they usually have the good sense to select a pretty, ladylike partner—not a showpiece."

In the two decades since World War II, hair coloring has made tremendous strides, especially those products designed for home use. Since there is no longer any social stigma attached to hair coloring women are free to choose any shade they please. The majority discovered that soft brown, glistening brunettes or naturally dark hair rinsed with a subtle auburn tone is usually more youthful and flattering.

Wall Fabrics Renew Life Of Room

Paste Pot Mess No Longer Part Of Covering Wall

What is the best way to make a room look new, revived, bright with fresh interest? The answer is wall fabrics! From the ceiling down, wall coverings import a just-moved-in newness housewives love.

Their sparkling colors don't fade as easily as wall paints . . . and if you're in the market for easy-care walls this season, it's vinyl-coated wall fabric you want! Cuff-resistant, it wipes clean in a jiffy. Your walls will look better—longer.

But nobody wants to take the time these days to paste up wall fabrics . . . the job involving paste pots is far too messy for most do-it-yourselfers.

Good news on that score—latest fabrics are pre-pasted! They need only sponge-moistening to apply.

A tip from Columbus Coated Fabrics . . . it's what's underneath that counts, if you want your fabric to stick flat and close indefinitely. It's easy to prepare your walls . . . with a little know-how.

It is a great temptation when a covering has substance, to let it cover the multitude of tiny cracks in a wall that requires mending. But don't try it that way—it won't give you a good job!

In Kitchen

If you plan to apply your vinyl-coated fabric to walls in the kitchen . . . you probably have a grease problem to contend with. Wash greasy wall surfaces with an ammonia solution . . . follow with clear water, and dry.

Old paint, of course, can stay . . . but where painted surfaces are glossy, dull them with a paint and varnish softener, steel wool or sandpaper.

Now to tackle the cracks. Big or small . . . take the time to fill them in with patching plaster or spackling compound. All but the largest repaired spots will be dry enough in a few minutes to be sandpapered smooth. And now

NOW YOU CAN apply wall fabric as easily as need of only moistening. They're also scuff a postage stamp. The back of the latest vinyl-coated wall fabrics are pre-glued and are in your wall is patched, clean and ready for its beauty treatment! You don't need to be an expert to do a tidy job of covering your walls with fabric. But all your effort into the first strip you apply . . . then all the others will fall into proper place.

Do what the professional wall coverers like to do . . . start at a door or window, to make the job easier.

They cut the fabric a few inches longer than necessary, unrolling strips alongside each other to make sure the pattern matches when they cut it. Amateurs should cut all the strips needed for an entire wall before attempting to apply the first strip.

It is at this point the one messy step in old-fashioned wall covering has been eliminated. No paste pot! All you need is a bucket of water and a large sponge . . . a wide, soft brush . . . scissors . . . and a sturdy ladder.

Easy Rules
Men might know what a "plumb line" is—and why you have to start with one—but chances are that the ladies are very vague on this subject. A plumb line is the straight-up-and-down mark you need to get your wall fabric on properly.

From the door or window you've chosen for a starting point, measure a distance to one side as wide as your fabric strip. At this distance, tie a fork or other weight to a string on the wall at a point near the ceiling. Let it dangle while you go to your water sponge and the first strip of fabric.

Moistening the strip, line up the side of it with your plumb line . . . with a little overlap at the ceiling. Brush it to the wall, top to bottom.

Crease the wall fabric into the ceiling joint with scissors. Pull it away from the wall just enough to permit cutting along the crease line. Follow the same procedure around the doors and windows.

Do what the professional wall coverers like to do . . . start at a door or window, to make the job easier.

The edge of the first strip is longer than necessary, unrolling strips alongside each other to make sure the pattern matches when they cut it. Amateurs should cut all the strips needed for an entire wall before attempting to apply the first strip.

It is at this point the one messy step in old-fashioned wall covering has been eliminated. No paste pot!

All you need is a bucket of water and a large sponge . . . a wide, soft brush . . . scissors . . . and a sturdy ladder.

Achieve Texture
Now an exciting textured look can be achieved, for example, in a game table corner. Walls can be covered with pre-pasted "Somerset" . . . and softly gathered draperies repeating the pattern can add a note of elegance to the corner . . . or to a whole room, if the decorator prefers.

Another beautiful new design—guaranteed to please any female heart young or old—is called "Butterfly."

A suggested treatment for any lady's boudoir is the delicate design by Wall-Tex in deep pink and gold on a white ground . . . to serve as color inspiration for the room. The dressing table might feature a skirt in deep pink . . . a wrought iron stool painted stark white . . . and lipstick-red chair cushion and lampshade.

Thanks to these unique wall coverings, both do-it-yourself fans and professional paper hangers can avail themselves of decorating opportunities not possible a few years ago.

Unusual colors, textures and patterns are available . . . combining durability with attractiveness. And many of the patterns are available in matching fabric for draperies, or plastic shower curtain and window curtains!

Very often, the homemaker can avoid the expense of new furnishings and still get a brand new look for all her rooms . . . by dressing up the walls. She can create sophisticated or cosy effects—accent special areas—"warm up" a sunless room—by working on the walls, redecorating from the top down.

Farmer's Take

NEW YORK (UPI) — The farmer now receives less than 40 cents of the food dollar. The U.S. Department of Agriculture said this is 10 cents less than he got a decade ago.

Shirtboards are stiff enough to hold sweeping when no dust pan is available and, if you're building a home, save those shirtboards to pick up wood shavings, plaster, as well as dirt and mud tracked into the house.

Another variety of uses occurs when there is painting to be done in the home. When painting windows the shirtboard can be held over the glass so it will receive the excess paint. Boards can also be used as guides or straight edges

Shirtboards Can Be Useful Stop Throwing Them Away

Many homemakers are in the habit of throwing away the shirtboards from their husbands freshly laundered shirts, without realizing that they can be very useful in the home. Here are some hints, on how to make use of these versatile shirtboards.

Homemakers will find shirtboards convenient when preparing food for the family. Fruits or vegetables for salads can be cut or peeled without mess on these boards. Besides making nice cutting surface, the board absorbs juices lost in cutting, and makes a sturdy wrapping when folded around the peelings for disposal.

Shirtboards will come in handy on days when you'd like to keep the children quietly busy in the house. The children can use them for coloring, making puzzles and stencils.

Women Are Robbed

Women are robbed daily — in broad daylight and quite legally! The villains are antiquated tax laws, inequitable pay, and lack of opportunity for women to use their skills to full advantage. Suffragettes won many things for women but financial equality was not among them.

Mrs. Esther Peterson, director of the U.S. Labor Department's Women's Bureau, points out, "although women are no longer an abused minority, new attitudes must be encouraged about the problems of working women."

Mrs. Peterson does not champion revolt among women; nor does she demand total equality for their sex. But she does champion a realistic understanding of women's financial needs today including fair tax legislation for working women and a reappraisal of domestic service.

Today's working women are taxed on their total income yet spend 40% of it on job-related expenses: domestic help, lunch, cosmetics, bus fares and extra clothes. None of these are tax deductible. A man can deduct certain business expenses but a woman may not deduct child care costs unless she and her husband earn less than $4500. To add insult to injury she must pay 3 per cent social security tax on her domestic's wages. Business can deduct this as a legitimate expense, but in the case of the working woman, the Internal Revenue Service says this is a personal—not business—expense.

If we believe in an expanding economy, Mrs. Peterson states, we must encourage, not discourage women from working. Working women create jobs for everyone through increased needs for goods and services; they put 70% of their income back into circulation immediately; many have skills that are specifically needed — teaching, nursing, secretarial. It is only just that women should get an even break. The increased minimum wage scale helps some but still does not cover domestic helpers and laundresses — so vital to working women.

Women, too, must do their part if they want to work. They must train domestic assistants and be willing to give them good wages and dignity. We should take a lesson from Sweden. Mrs. Peterson says, where they use the talents of mature women thus freeing someone else for a job beyond the home. These women have professional standing. They have earned a diploma and a uniform, and the respect of their communities.

Women can have equality if they are willing to work for it. Leaving it to the men to do for them simply won't work.

Grandson Is Subject Of Car Feature

Proudest grandparents in town are the Harry Chesters whose 15-year-old grandson, John Romain, son of the H. J. Romain Jr.'s of Long Beach, was the subject of a feature article in the September issue of "Car Craft."

John outstripped 1,500 other entrants at Stanford Junior High School, Long Beach, to win the school's custom car contest held last May. Photos of John, his prize winning model and his instructor, Tom Talbert, illustrated the magazine article.

High School Players Will Present Dramas Saturday

Two famous dramas in abridged form will be presented by the ISOMATA High School Players as their major production on Saturday, September 2, at 8:15 p.m. at the Idyllwild Arts Foundation, Idyllwild, California.

"Dr. Faustus" by Christopher Marlowe and "Lilium" by Ferenc Molnar, two plays of great historical and theatrical prominence approaching similar themes at different times in history are the vehicles to be presented. Both productions will be stylized, with a minimum of setting and the use of modern lighting effects.

"Dr. Faustus" is of Elizabethan vintage and embodies all the technical effects and dramatic vitality of that lusty and colorful period. "Lilium" also involved with the conflicts and relationships between setting and contains many warm and happy characters in some fast comic action. Between the two an evening of balanced drama is offered.

The entire High School Players program is under the direction of Burnett Ferguson, of the drama department at El Camino College. Assisting the director are Neal Jardine, Pat Knox and Carolyn Nowell.

Scouts Make Preparations For Season

Boy Scout and Girl Scout committees at Twentynine Palms Marine Corps Base are beginning preparations for the 1961-62 season. Girl Scouts and Brownies, all members of Lone Troop 12, will become more informed about their patrols, after patrol leaders and committee members meet on Sept. 6 at 9:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Ruth Luther. Troop officers will be introduced and plans for fall registration will be discussed.

Girlpower

NEW YORK — Juliette Low, founder of the Girl Scouts, had her own way of celebrating her birthday. It was her custom to write a letter each year to "her" Girl Scouts.

In 1924, 12 years after she had formed the first troop, she wrote of the need for larger Girl Scout headquarters and compared herself to the old woman who lived in the shoe. By then membership had grown from the original 12 girls of her first troop to 92,000. Today, there are more than three million.

Steam Scheme

If you ever find yourself in a hotel where pressing service is not available, here's a little trick to remove wrinkles from travel-wear clothing:

Fill the bathtub with steaming water, suspend your garments over it, then hang in your room to air. You'll find this bit of improvisation will serve you well until you can get more expert attention.

Television In Review

By DANIEL MELNICK

Vice President in charge of program development, ABC television network

NEW YORK (UPI) — Those of us involved in developing network TV programs and putting them on the air will be awaiting the new season's premieres with special interest.

We'll be asking ourselves whether we've guessed right. Will the new shows be accepted by the public? Will the returning shows continue to hold up? Have we slotted them advantageously?

It won't take long for the answers to come in. Every night is election night in TV. The viewers and critics cast their ballots pretty quickly.

However, our primary concern right now is not the viewers' verdict on our 1961-62 offerings. Program decisions, for better or for worse, have been made for the season that begins in September. They are, for the time being, at least, irrevocable.

The greater part of our concern and effort at the moment is what ABC-TV will put on the air for the 1962-63 season, and even the year after that. Network TV program planning is always done at least a year ahead.

The 1962-63 season on ABC-TV will be characterized by, for one thing, a resurgence of live programming. This is presaged this year by the return of Steve Allen to television. The following season will see more live entertainment on ABC-TV — drama as well as comedy and musical variety.

Sense on Civil Defense

For some reason, civil defense in this country—or more especially in this county—appears to be getting some sensible consideration, after these many years of nonsensical dabbling. It's about time.

We can thank the heavens that the dreamers of grandiose, impossible schemes appear to be giving away to reasonable consideration.

Remember when the CD people were planning mass evacuation of such metropolitan areas as Los Angeles? It seemed that everyone but those doing the planning knew that wouldn't work.

Then there was a big, brass wheel named Val Peterson. He apparently woke up one morning with the idea which was sure-fire to save most of Southern California's citizens. It would cost a little money, to be sure, but then, one must face up to the possibilities. So he decided that the right trick would be to hollow out the San Bernardino mountains and provide one, great shelter for all those refugees who would never get out of the metropolitan area when nuclear bombs exploded.

That one was an apex of some sort.

Now, most of the official talk on civil defense seems to center on having proper organization to meet the confusion of disaster, of providing food, shelter and hospitalization for those who survive, of teaching individuals the best means of survival.

That's the sort of thing they should be concerned with. Again, thank heavens for the arrival of reason!

Letters to the Editor...

To the Editor
The Desert Sun
Sir:

As the season approaches for action among the junior Tarzans in the pursuit of the field of dangerous birds and animals, we would like to offer a public service by quoting from the National Wildlife Federation:

"Waterfowl and other migratory birds, hatched and raised in areas remote from known application of pesticides, are found to be carrying Heptachlor and/or DDT. Fish and aquatic creatures also are found to contain poison residues far from known applications, leading to the probability that the chemicals are transmitted long distances by moving water.

Evidence is building up. In 1958, sample of woodcock adults which wintered in the south showed 10 per cent affected by Heptachlor and these had less than 1 part per million. In 1960, however, 70 per cent of the birds sampled had 9 parts per million... Heptachlor residues were carried from six to eight months.

The Food and Drug Administration, Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, has decreed a 'zero tolerance' of Heptachlor for domestic meat products in order to prevent damage to humans. What, however, happens to people who eat woodcock contaminated with 9 parts per million of Heptachlor? The same question can be applied to many species of game and fish products!"

Hugh Wooster writing in his book on hunting has stated about the serious problem of lead poisoning in ducks. "A duck with four pellets in its gizzard becomes sterile; five will make it sick all over and six or more are usually fatal... In the area around Tule Lake Refuge in 1953, 35,435 boxes of shells were shot, which in weight comes to FIFTY TONS."

This tremendous number of lead pellets has increased each year and is left on the bottom of ponds where ducks feed. Is there any wonder that the duck population decreases each year?

And it ain't all the fault of the drought either, brother!

Yours,
C. Cope

Dear Sir:

We wish to express our grateful appreciation to you for the fine cooperation you extended to the Riverside County Branch, American Cancer Society. Undoubtedly you are well aware that the incidence of cancer is so high that public interest is great concerning news about this major health hazard.

Your assistance has not only alerted the public concerning cancer's danger signals and the latest advances science has made concerning the disease, but information published has been of help to several cancer patients and their families. As a result of news concerning our service program, we had calls from cancer patients or their families, because they needed our help. It is always a satisfying experience to be able to give such aid.

Educational releases resulted in over 300 individual requests for educational pamphlets and other informative materials this year.

It is a most thrilling and satisfying experience to have a person who believes he or she has symptoms of cancer to come into our office for information; to counsel with this person and guide him to competent medical help; to discover that this person does have cancer but because it is in its early stages it can in all probability be treated successfully; to see that person return from surgery and become a well and active member of the community again. Because of publicity given through your media this, too, has happened this year. You may well consider your newspaper an active partner in our life-saving education program.

We cherish your co-operation and we hope that we will be working together through the coming year.

Gratefully,
Mrs. Ruth L. Jones

Dear Abby...

... by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I've got a problem a lot of girls my age have. I am 14 and look worse than my brother. In other words, I am flat-chested. I am so discouraged I don't know what to do. Please don't tell me to wait, because I have waited 14 years and nothing has happened.

FLAT CAT

DEAR CAT: You will have to rely on your other good points for now. If, at age 16, you are still concave where you should be convex, find yourself a lingerie shop, and you'll come out ahead in nothing flat.

DEAR ABBY: For the last four months I have been going out with a boy (I will call him "A") who is 22. When I first met "A" at the swimming pool, I noticed he had a deep scar running down his chest, and I asked him how he got it. He told me that while in the Army he was cut during combat practice.

Recently, his younger brother told me that "A" was in a knife fight with another boy when he was 17, and that both boys were sent to an Industrial School. If this story is true, I know I can't go out with "A" any more.

JUST NOSY

DEAR NOSY: The gentleman obviously doesn't want to be bothered. So don't bother him.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARGE: Don't rush the preliminaries or there will be no main event.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Abby answers ALL mail.

It's the male of the species who is less immune
To the ads for cosmetics or subtle perfume.

I don't know how it is with the men of the United States but I read a Parisian dispatch the other day which quoted statistics to show that the he-Brion is buying cosmetics and perfume at a greater rate than the women.

THAT ISN'T ALL. The next day I slipped from the sports section on to the women's pages and saw how it is going to be with the men of the United States.

This dispatch quoted a beauty expert — of the male variety, too — that men will be wearing make-up in ten years.

"In every civilization," he said "the male look has swung from plain to fancy."

REMARKED on these two items at home and was told:

"Probably most of those excess purchases by the men at cosmetic counters are for their wives and/or girl friends. Some men do buy perfume and beauty aids for the girls, you know."

"Seems to me that the women might take the gifts as a hint and be insulted," was my defense.

Somehow, I can't quite picture a city editor stopping in the midst of barking out a news assignment to a reporter, to apply more lipstick or reach into his purse and pull out a powder puff to hide that five o'clock shadow.

And think of the fate of the reporter if the editor was of the old unpowered school and the reporter, stopped listening to do that.

There'd be a lot of words used that aren't in the dictionary, even unabridged.

Dodgers, SF Win On Hurls

Drysdale Halts
Cubs 5-2 to Gain
On 2nd Spot Reds

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Good pitching, considered by many to be the most important phase of baseball and the thing that deserted Los Angeles in its big series against Cincinnati, has returned to the Dodgers.

Just in time too, with the mystifying Dodgers hanging in the crazy National League pennant race only 2½ games behind the first-place Reds.

The Dodgers, who got a two-hit effort from Sandy Koufax on Tuesday against Chicago, came back with a combined seven-hit performance by Johnny Podres and Larry Sherry to stop the Cubs, 5-2, at Wrigley field.

4 or 6 (or 16)

Following their twin wins over Chicago, which gave Los Angeles four victories in the last six games, or looking at it differently, only four of the last 16, the Dodgers open a three-game series against the Milwaukee Braves at County Stadium.

Side-armer Don Drysdale (10-8) attempts to stretch the Los Angeles win streak to three tonight. Manager Charley Dressen of the Braves has named rookie Bob Hendley (4-3) to pitch.

The Dodgers gained a whole game on Cincy Wednesday when the Reds were stopped by Pittsburgh, 3-1.

Podres gave up all seven hits in the six plus innings he pitched and also was charged with both Cub runs. The left-hander, who was credited with his 17th win against four losses, tired in the seventh inning due to 94-degree Chicago heat.

Sherry Sharp

Sherry, who has been extremely disappointing in his past few pitching jobs, including a start against the Reds, was sharp Wednesday night. He struck out seven and allowed no runs and no hits in the final three innings. A couple of the Dodgers' less powerful batters made the noise at the plate as Larry's brother Norm drove in three runs with a homer and a single and second baseman Charley Neal drove in two with a homer and a triple.

Outside of those two, only pitcher Podres, Tommy Davis and Daryl Spencer got hits. But it didn't matter, with Neal and Sherry getting their timely blows.

DEFENDING CHAMP - - - By Alan Maver

Mantle Poles 47th HR; Pirates Nip Reds, 3-1

United Press International

Mickey Mantle, something of a "forgotten man" the past 10 days, got back in the race again today, not so much with Babe Ruth, but in that rather neglected one with the Detroit Tigers.

Folks had begun to ask what ever became of Mantle.

He hadn't hit a home run since Aug. 20th and most of the experts already had written him off as a possible threat to Ruth's record any more this year.

Mantle insisted all along that he was more interested in helping the New York Yankees win the American League pennant than he was in breaking the Babe's record.

Mantle's homer, off loser Jim Kaat, kept him two games ahead of Ruth's record pace, but far more important, to manager Ralph Houk, anyway, he also helped the Yankee increase their lead to 2 games over the menacing second-place Tigers.

Mantle drove in one of the Yankees' runs with one single in three official trips as Bill Stafford limited the Twins to four hits for his 12th victory.

The Chicago White Sox took the Tigers over the hurdles, 7-4, the Cleveland Indians handed the Washington Senators their 12th straight loss, 9-0, the Boston Red Sox clipped the Kansas City Athletics, 9-3, and the Baltimore Orioles crushed the Los Angeles Angels, 11-4.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers climbed to within 2½ games of first place with a 5-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Pittsburgh downed first-place Cincinnati, 3-1, San Francisco nipped Milwaukee, 2-1, and Philadelphia defeated St. Louis, 4-3.

Hunters Urged to Observe Firearms, Game Laws in Hunt for Plentiful Desert Doves

INDIO — Doves will be plentiful during the Sept. 2- Oct. 1 season across the desert area, but hunters must remember the do's and don'ts of hunting laws and firearm regulations.

Most consistent hunter errors are shooting too close to dwellings, and trespassing on private property, Capt. L. E. "Bud" Brooks, commander of the Indio sheriff's office reports.

Under county ordinance 273, a hunter may not discharge a weapon — including air rifles — within 200 yards of a dwelling without written permission of the occupants, Capt. Brooks said.

Away from houses, trespass laws apply to cultivated fields, fenced areas, or open lands posted according to law. Fines starting at $25, and jail sentences up to 90 days may apply to individual violations, Brooks said.

"Some hunters will tell us their Constitutional right to bear arms is violated, but apparently the courts haven't seen it that way," Brooks observed. He pointed out that a bounce shot or a stray shot in the early morning or evening can wound or kill in inhabited areas. Private property, he warn-

Miller Saves 2-1 McCormick Win for 3rd

CHICAGO (UPI) — As the sun set slowly on the San Francisco Giants, little Stu Miller again rode out of the bullpen to save the Giants from a scalping by the Braves Wednesday.

Mike McCormick, working slowly in the 93-degree heat of County Stadium, had all his stuff going as he nursed a 2-1 lead against Milwaukee into the ninth inning.

But when he walked the toughest Brave of them all, Hank Aaron, manager Al Dark called on Miller for the 50th time this year. The slow-throwing Miller immediately made Dark look good by inducing Joe Adcock to ground into a double play.

Still Some Arrows

The Braves still had couple of arrows left, however. Frank Thomas and Joe Torre hit singles, but Miller brought the drama to a happy ending from the Giants' point of view by forcing pinch-hitter Neil Chrisley to bounce out routinely.

Stu's first aid accomplished much. It snapped a five-game Giant loss streak, gave McCormick his 11th win, and moved the Giants back in third place past the Braves to within 6 games of Cincinnati, which finally lost one.

The Giants will try to simultaneously fend off the Braves and gain ground on Los Angeles and Cincinnati here this afternoon against the Chicago Cubs.

Hard-throwing right-hander Juan Marichal (13-8) will go for San Francisco while the Cubs will counter with their southpaw cutie Jack Curtis (8-10).

Most of Wednesday's offensive punch was again supplied by Willie McCovey.

DEL MAR (UPI) — Strathnauer, who set the track record for a mile over grass, and Fighting Felix, dropping down in class after three stakes losses, battle for other 3-year-olds in the featured $4,000 San Diego Elks Lodge Pace today at Del Mar Race Track.

Strathnauer set a track mark of 1:37 4-5 on the turf in his last start, but he may have more trouble at the 11-16 mile distance.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A pair of big heavyweights, Alex Miteff and Jim McCarter, fight tonight in the 10-round main event at Olympic Auditorium.

Miteff, a 6-foot-1, 210-pounder from Argentina, is a 2-1 favorite because of his big edge in experience.

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The city of San Diego, which got the professional Chargers from Los Angeles, was gloating today over another "steal" — a 20-19 victory in the Breithardt College - Prep Charity Game.

Harlan Dean In Record For Hambletonian Win

DU QUOIN, Ill. (UPI) — Strategically as well as speed made Harlan Dean, a standout winner of the Hambletonian, the most prized stake in the harness racing record book.

Harlan Dean, owned by Keystone Stables, Meadowlands, Pa., won the $131,573 stake, picking up prize money of $77,364 himself, in straight heats, the fastest ever trotted in the Hambletonian, and set two world records.

Partially, his success resulted from injury. He was lame when he came out of winter quarters in Florida, and his driver, Jimmy Arthur, said he almost was "sent back."

But a strategic decision kept him in competition and he was raced lightly, working out the soreness. He had so little action that when the field of 13 began the first heat of the Hambletonian, it was only the ninth race this season for Harlan Dean.

Once Pressed Favorite

His speed was unquestioned, since he pressed one of the favorites, Caleb, to a world record equalling performance at Springfield, Ill., earlier this month, and another favorite, Matastar, to a top triumph in the American National.

His physical condition was in doubt until the home stretch. Then Arthur and Harlan Dean put such pressure on the pacers, Matastar and Duke Rodney, that Rodney broke, and Harlan Dean came through on the rail to nip Matastar in a photo finish.

Harlan Dean's time, fastest ever in the Hambletonian, was 1:58 2-5, compared to the old world record of 1:58 3-5 by Elaine Rodney and Caleb, for trotters in a race on a one-mile track.

Caleb, owned by Mrs. Charlotte De Van, Hanover, Pa., was third in the first heat and second in the second for runner-up money of $77,364. Third prize of $32,235 went to Matastar, owned by Arden Homestead Stable, Goshen, N.Y., on finishes of two-seventh, and fourth money of $6,447 went to Spectator, owned by Castleton Farm, Lexington, Ky., who finished six-third.
